Implementation Plan
Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

July 20, 2016
Title VI Overview

Title VI of 1964 Civil Rights Act provides that no person in the United States shall, on the grounds of race, color, national origin, or sex be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal assistance.

The Civil Rights Act of 1987 broadened the scope of Title VI coverage by expanding the definition of terms “programs and activities” to include all programs and activities of Federal Aid recipients, sub-recipients, and contractors whether such programs and activities are federally funded or not.

Title VI seeks to prevent and eliminate existing discrimination and ensure that public funds are used for public benefit and to establish a mechanism for accountability. The full text of Title VI prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color or national origin. However, since title VI was passed, additional regulations and executive orders have extended that list to also include prohibits for discrimination against others on the basis of: sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, religion, income status or limited English proficiency.
